Schools

- We support educators in the UK and worldwide to work together to enrich the quality of education in schools and equip young people to live and work successfully in a global society.

Improve Learning Outcomes through:

- building a body of research that is publically available on best international practice
- facilitating system improvement on a continuum from access to quality to innovation
- providing services that support practitioners to deliver quality education

The screenshot displays the 'SchoolsOnline' section of the British Council website. At the top left is the British Council logo. To the right are links for 'Calendar', 'Contact us', 'How to register', and 'Login'. A search icon is also present. Below these is a dropdown menu for 'United Kingdom' with a 'Change region' button. A navigation bar contains links for 'Discover international learning', 'Classroom Resources For Teachers', 'Partner with a school', 'Develop your skills' (highlighted), and 'About Schools Online'. The main content area shows a breadcrumb trail: 'Home > Develop your skills > Professional development courses'. The title 'Professional development courses' is prominently displayed. On the left, there is a large image of a woman with braids looking at a laptop. Below this image is a purple text box stating: 'A wide range of professional development courses is available to help you develop your skills and learn new teaching approaches. Find our current opportunities below.' To the right of the image is a 'Section links' section with a dropdown arrow and a list: 'Professional development courses', 'Teaching the core skills', 'Leading the core skills', 'European collaboration', and 'Overseas training and placements'. Below the list is a purple header 'The core skills' followed by a small image of a classroom with a world map and children. At the bottom right, there is a section for 'Awards and accreditation' with the text: 'Gain recognition for integrating international learning into the...'
